

CONWAY TO JUDGE
POULTRY ENTRIES
AT ANTIOCH SHOWExhibition To Be Staged
In The New Wetzel
Building.

Reigh Count, the famous race horse that will be in Europe this winter, is a Lake county horse. He is the property of Mrs. Hearst, the Leona farms, Cary Illinois, and Frank Conway is the manager of the farm. It is this same Frank Conway who is also famous for the Buff Orpington poultry he raises at the farm. He is the same Frank Conway who wins at the Madison Square Garden shows and the Chicago poultry shows. He is the famous poultry judge who judges shows throughout this country and Canada.

The place of exhibition has been changed. The poultry show will be held in the garage and show room of the new Wetzel building, just two doors north of the Klein building where it was intended the show was to be. The Klein building has been rented.

Inquiries concerning the show are coming in more and more and officers look forward to a big show.

CHICAGO MILK SUPPLY
DISCUSSED YESTERDAYLloyd Atwell Represents
Antioch High School
At Grayslake.

One hundred farmers and other representatives from this district attended a meeting in Grayslake yesterday to discuss Chicago's milk supply. The meeting was one of three being held this week in charge of an investigating committee composed of E. K. Jenkins, representing the Chicago Association of Commerce; Mrs. A. M. Quinby, representing the federation of women's clubs, and Dr. A. Holt of the Chicago Church federation. The first meeting was held in Woodstock and the last was held Wednesday afternoon in Elgin.

Many farmers were interviewed at the Grayslake meeting. It was learned that farmers have found it necessary to increase mortgages, rather than decrease mortgages, because of the low price of milk. It was also found that women rural dwellers have to help with the work in connection with the milk, and yet these same women are going without many necessities of life. It was general consensus of opinion that for the farmer, milk should be priced at $3 a hundred pounds.

Antioch representatives who talked were C. K. Anderson, Lewis Kufalk, and the Rev. A. M. Kral. The audience was favorably impressed with the report made by Lloyd Atwell who attended as a delegate from the department of agriculture, Antioch High School.

COLONIAL COLLECTION
RELEVANT TO SEASON

Thanksgiving programs were given in all of the rooms of the Antioch Grade school today. There is no school Thursday or Friday. The next holiday after that does not come until Good Friday in April.

Students in Miss Dorothy Patterson's seventh grade have been collecting material such as pictures, poems, and stories, for a program. Relevant to the program and bearing upon the season is the colonial and antique display. Included in the exhibit are: a black satin vest, tie and collar which belonged to one of the pupil's great grandfather—and accompanying the outfit is the great grandfather's green spectacles; two baskets almost a century old; a powder horn, candlesticks, fruit jars, old coins, and books dating back to the time of George Washington.

STUCK BY CAR

Serious injuries about the head, and a fracture of the hip were sustained by Mike Dragovich, Libertyville, Monday, when he stepped from a street car in Waukegan in front of an automobile driven by A. J. Autry, Negro, Waukegan. Witnesses declare that the accident could not be avoided by the Negro.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

THE season again approaches when it has been the custom for generations to set apart a day of Thanksgiving for the blessings which the giver of all good and perfect gifts has bestowed upon us during the year. It is most becoming that we should do this, for the goodness and mercy of God which have followed us through the year deserve our grateful recognition and acknowledgment.

Through His divine favor, peace and tranquillity have reigned throughout the land. He has protected our country as a whole against pestilence and disaster and has directed us in the way of national prosperity. Our fields have been abundantly productive; our industries have flourished; our commerce has increased; wages have been liberative and contentment has followed the undisturbed pursuit of honest toil.

As we have prospered in material things, so have we also grown and expanded in things spiritual. Through divine inspiration we have enlarged our charities and our missions; we have been imbued with high ideals which have operated for the benefit of the world and the promotion of the brotherhood of man through peace and good will.

Wherefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby set apart Thursday, the 29th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and I recommend that on that day the people shall cease from their daily work and in their homes and in their accustomed places of worship devoutly give thanks to the Almighty for the many great blessings they have received, and seek His guidance that they may deserve a continuance of His favor.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the United States.

Done at the City of Washington, this 23rd day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and fifty-third.

— Calvin Coolidge

LANDMARK BURNS
AT PETITE LAKE"Queen of the West" Destroyed By Fire Sunday Afternoon.

"Queen of the West" reigns no more.

Fire destroyed the 60-room frame hotel, Queen of the West, at Petite Lake late Sunday afternoon. The alarm was turned in at the Antioch department station at 3:45 o'clock. For more than two hours firemen played two streams of water on the blaze, but too much headway had been gained by the fire before the alarm was sounded. For almost half a century the Queen of the West has stood in one of the most beautiful locations in northern Illinois. The glory which once surrounded this landmark had been lost, however. The hotel no longer was occupied. It was built by Andrew Hermann.

TWO TEACHERS GO TO HAND WORK MEETING

Delegates from the Antioch Grade school to a hand work meeting held in the Libertyville elementary school Saturday were Mrs. Charles Lux and Miss Isabelle Harwood, teachers of the first and sixth grades respectively. The teachers were taught to make various articles by Miss Florence Macdonald, LaPayette, Indiana.

SENATOR ROBBED

State Senator John Brown, Monmouth, is recovering from an attack by three footpads who robbed him of a small sum of cash and diamonds valued at $3,000. The holdup occurred within a half a block of the post office in the center of Monmouth. The bandits escaped in an auto after the holdup. Senator Brown is a former mayor of Monmouth and is widely known in western Illinois.

ENTITLED TO ENTER

A man enrolled in service on June 15, 1918, is entitled to admission to the Soldiers' and Sailors' home at Quincy, Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom recently told Adjutant Jack Hensling of the home. The attorney general ruled that all army and navy forces of the United States may properly be considered as engaged in the World War until November 11, 1918.

QUITE LUCKY

One Is Fortunate To Live In Lake County Thanksgiving Season.

Turkeys in Chicago this week have been selling for 85 and 90 cents a pound, the prices having been increased because of the Thanksgiving holidays.

In Lake county, however, turkeys have been selling at the same prices as before the holiday season. The average cost to the housewife has been 55 cents. In few localities, and then only at the last minute, was 60 cents charged.

RABBIT FUR?

Rabbits, pigeons, poultry, and cavy will be exhibited at a show in Peoria December 5 to 9.

The rabbit exhibitions are to be featured with almost every variety of rabbit. A display is to be made of the various fur trimmings, sold under fancy names, that are really fur. Rabbit skins, according to breeders, are used extensively by furriers, and many fur coats are of rabbit fur.

DAVIS MUST APPEAR
BEFORE GRAND JURY
ON LARCENY CHARGE

Is Said To Have Admitted Taking Silverware From Nelson Cottage.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt, Waukegan, Friday, on a charge of larceny, Jack Davis, Antioch, was bound over to the grand jury.

Davis is charged with having stolen an automobile key and silverware valued at $30 from Mrs. Charles Nelson, Druce lake. He admitted taking some of the silver, Officer Frank Valenta told in the office of Sheriff L. A. Donlittle.

Davis was arrested four weeks ago and placed in the local jail. He escaped but was captured within a short time.

HOOVER IS ELECTED—
BUT YET HE'S NOT

Washington, Nov. 29 — Herbert Hoover has been elected president, but as a matter of fact the election will not be official until the second Monday in January. At that time a vote will be cast by the "electoral college," a group of representative electors chosen by each state and equal to the combined representation of the state in the house of representatives and the senate.

The electoral college was established by Article Two of the constitution, to be presently approved by the twelfth amendment after the Jefferson-Burr deadlock. The reason behind it was the candid fear on the part of the framers of the constitution that the people were not able to decide for themselves on the matter of the chief executive.

NEW GARAGE OPENS

After eight years of experience in automobile repair work, Eddie Bonnselle, Kenosha, will open to the public Monday, the Serv-U garage in the Klein building, Main street. Mr. Bonnselle received his training while an officer in the United States air service. He will do work on all makes of automobiles. He and Mrs. Bonnselle have already moved to Antioch.

HAS RIGHT

The secretary of state has legal right to charge a fee for the organization of domestic railroad corporations.

Eminent Educator
Expresses Opinion
Of New Building

Praise was given the Antioch Board of Education on the new Antioch Grade school by Dr. Henry Tralle, eminent educator of Teacher's college, Columbia university, who was in Antioch Saturday night.

Dr. Tralle was asked by W. C. Petty, principal of the school, to carefully inspect the new building and to frankly express his opinion as to both the favorable and unfavorable points.

"I was indeed pleasantly surprised to find such a remarkable building for a community of this size," Dr. Tralle said. "Every inch of space has been considered. The heating and ventilation system is as good as possible. The compactness of the building is excellent."

"Not only have provisions been made for today, but the future has been considered as well. Antioch should be proud of the new grade school building."

ORDER ALL HERDS
IN COUNTY TESTED

Period of Ninety Days Is Given Farmers To Comply With Ruling.

Notice has been served on the farmers of Lake county by the board of supervisors and Dr. T. P. Gallahue, county veterinarian, that the state has placed the county on the accredited list and that under the law all dairy and breeding herds of cattle will have to be tested.

A period of 90 days is being allowed the dairymen and breeders by the state law to call in veterinarians to test their herds. If this order is not complied with then the county veterinarian has the right to enter the property and test the herds and bill the farmer for the expense.

A county can only be accredited after 75 per cent of the cattle have been tested for bovine tuberculosis. The recent census here proved that a larger percentage than 75 per cent was under test.

In the last few years, after the first protest died out there has been little trouble in adding more and more farmers each year to the class that is urging testing.

NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT IS ASKED IN PETITION

Voting Will Probably Take Place During The Next Month.

Efforts are being made to form a community high school district in the neighborhood of Grant, Lake Villa, and Antioch townships. A petition bearing 55 names calling for voting on the matter has been filed in the office of T. A. Simpson, county clerk. The signers live in Fox Lake. Mr. Simpson has said that the election will probably be held next month, but no definite date has been set.

The proposed district includes about 27 square miles. It takes care of territory that is without high school facilities. Most of the students in it attend the Libertyville, Grange and Antioch high schools.

An attempt was made some time ago to organize a high school district in the territory included in Saturday's petition, but it went on the rocks because of opposition. The boundaries of the present plan are smaller than those of the original, and, for that reason may bring a more favorable vote.

If the plan is approved, the next step will be to organize the district, issue bonds, and build a school. The fact that approval of the measure will bring the levying of taxes for the support of the school is the reef on which the project may be wrecked. Many feel that the expense would be too great, inasmuch as nearby schools are available.

In Illinois. This was the finding of the state supreme court recently in a case filed by the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad company against Secretary of State Emmerson. Attorneys for the railroad company appealed the case to the supreme court of the United States. Word was received just a few days ago that that tribunal had declined to review the case.

JURY AQUITS FIVE WHO ARE CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING TO EMBEZZLE FUNDS
OF LAKE COUNTY; CASE PENDING YEARLICENSED STATUS
FOR AUTO DRIVERS
WANTED BY CLUB

Revival of effort to effect passage of a drivers' license law at the next session of the legislature was voted last week by the board of directors of the Chicago Motor club.

Discussion revealed that the club will foster an automobile driver's license to be issued without preliminary examination and at a nominal cost, probably not more than 25 cents. The board instructed its legislative committee to immediately prepare a bill not only governing the license feature but also containing provision for financial responsibility on the part of the licensee.

"The principal aim as we see it," Sidney S. Gorham, counsel for the club, said, "is to create a licensed status for all automobile drivers, so that a penalty may be placed upon any driver operating a car without a license. Thus, if a reckless driver's license is revoked, the subject would be amenable to penalties if found operating a car subsequently."

International Live
Stock Show To Open

A challenge to the interest and the imagination of the American farmer and his family, the International Live Stock exposition will open its gates at the Chicago Stock Yards Saturday.

It will offer its thousands of visitors from America and abroad a cross-section view of the farming of the world, such as only an exposition of international character could. Alaska will be represented, as will Australia. The antipodes of northern and southern hemispheres will vie with one another for the attention of the visiting thousands.

IN NUMBER DEATHS
BY MOTOR MISHAPS

Figures For Last Year Are Compiled by Commerce Department.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—The department of commerce announces that in the registration area in continental United States there were 21,160 accidental deaths in 1927 charged to automobiles and other motor vehicles (excluding motorcycles), and that the death rate from this cause was 19.5 per 1,000 population against 17.9 in 1926, 17 in 1925, 15.7 in 1924, and 14.9 in 1923.

It should be noted, however, that the deaths assigned to automobile accidents do not include those due to collisions of automobiles with street cars and with railroad trains. Therefore, as in 1927 there were 476 deaths due to collisions of automobiles with street cars and 1,676 due to collisions with railroad trains, those deaths if added to the 21,160 assigned to automobile accidents would make for the registration area a grand total of 23,312 deaths due to accidents in which automobiles were involved and would raise the rate from 19.5 to 21.5 per 100,000 population.

As in 1927 the registration area included only 91.3 per cent of the total population of the United States by assuming that the number of deaths from automobile accidents reported in the registration area comprises 91.3 per cent of the number of deaths from automobile accidents in the entire United States, it may be estimated that the total number of deaths in that year due to accidents in which automobiles were involved was approximately 25,533.

In the 37 states for which data is available for the five year period, 1923 to 1927, the number of these deaths as shown increases from 13,512 in 1923 to 19,555 in 1927 and the corresponding rates were 15 and 18.8. In the 68 cities for which similar data are available, the number of deaths increased from 5,617 in 1923 to 7,246 in 1927, and the rate increased from 19.1 to 23.

As has been frequently pointed out, uncorrected figures of deaths from automobile accidents, especially in cities, may be very misleading, because fatal accidents frequently occur outside city limits, although the injured are hurried to the city hospitals and so increase the city death rate.

Court Is Pleased With Decision Announced;
Judge Explains.

Having pending for more than a year, the case charging five men with conspiring to embezzle $100,000 from the Lake county treasury, was settled—the defendants being acquitted, Thursday night.

Those involved had been: Ira Pearsall, 44, county treasurer from 1922 to 1926.

Roy Bracher, 49, county treasurer from 1918 to 1922 and re-elected in 1926 but forced to resign through the disclosures.

Harold Martin, 46, formerly vice-president of the defunct Security Savings bank.

Caleb Busick, 48, Winnetka oil stock promoter.

Clarke C. Nye, formerly cashier of the First National bank at Eureka, Kansas.

Four hours of deliberation were required by the jury. One Antioch man, John Dupre, was on the jury. Others were: George Blackburn, Waukegan hardware dealer; Edward Gleason, Half Day farmer; Erwin Drieske, Highland Park florist; Arthur Christensen, Lake Villa fence builder; Ernest Knaak, Libertyville farmer; Vincent Martin, Round Lake farmer; Roland Stanley, Highland insurance agent; H. G. Hillman, Lake Zurich stock buyer; Fred Towner, Diamond Lake garage man; Peter Hanson, Libertyville, employee of the Foulds Milling company and Frank Suydam, Libertyville garage man.

Circuit Judge Arthur Fisher, Rockford, who had heard the case on a change of venue, had ruled Wednesday on a motion of defense counsel to instruct the jury as to its verdict, that he would set aside a verdict of guilty if it were reached by the jury. Following his ruling the jury was locked up so that the information would not reach them.

When the verdict of not guilty was pronounced the judge said:

"Gentlemen, your verdict is in full accord and meets the opinion of the court."

He then proceeded to thank the jury for its services and attentiveness.

Three Others.

There are three conspiracy indictments remaining on the court records. One names Bracher, Martin and Pearsall, a second names Bracher alone and a third names all of the defendants.

The case started November '22 and continued through each day with the exception of last Saturday. The first one had not been as long and in this the jury failed to reach a decision.

In both cases the prosecution alone put in proofs with the defense (Continued on Page 51)

EIGHTH GRADE PUPILS
TO ENTER CONTEST

Eighth grade pupils of the Antioch Grade school will enter the Illinois Penmanship contest, according to W. C. Petty, teacher of writing.

T. L. Bryant, Carbondale, is in charge of the contest. No special method of writing is required for entrance. The contest is being staged in an effort to raise the standard of handwriting.

HAS NEW FEATURE

The poultry show now going on at Quincy offers an instructive feature that few other poultry expositions can provide. Visitors will have an opportunity to inspect the egg-laying contest plant the state department of agriculture operates in that city. Managers of the three poultry experimental plants conducted at Quincy, Kankakee and Murphysboro, welcome visitors, and will show them the details of feeding, housing and attention that are adopted as ideal for high egg production. With the poultry breeders of Quincy and vicinity assembled for the exposition, the local laying contest plant expects a throng of interested visitors.

CONDITION BETTER

Although King George of England is still in a critical condition he was still living Wednesday noon as the Antioch News went to press.

Aren't some of the purses carried this season unusually attractive?

One local woman carried a seal bag with an amber top. The amber part at the fastening was the shape of a peacock, and the bag formed the tail part. Unique—and "perfectly darling."

Quite modernistic was a purse of brown, tan, and gold leather. There isn't a conventional note in its design, but one with a vivid imagination can see pirates, snakes, or most anything!

Alligator seems to be a popular trimming for purses, and when it is used in a patch-pocket style well—the effect is just right!

Did You Ever Try
These Recipes?
Do, Please.*Orange Cake

Recipe:
1½ cups sugar
½ cup butter
1 cup milk
2½ cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
2 eggs (save the white of one egg for icing)
Method:

Beat yolks and whites separately. Flavor with one teaspoon orange juice and ½ teaspoon orange rind, grated. Mix the ingredients as for any cake batter.

For orange icing, melt five table-spoons butter and stir into it four cups powdered sugar, thinning it with the juice of one orange and one teaspoon grated rind. Lastly, stir in the beaten white. If too thin, add more sugar.

Veal Stew and Dumplings
(Minnichaha Style)

Buy about 6½c worth veal, cut for stew.
3 large onions
5 medium sized white potatoes
Four medium sized sweet potatoes

Method:

Peel and cut the potatoes in thick slices. The onions should be cut in smaller pieces, and put to cook with the meat. When the meat is almost thoroughly tender, put in the potatoes. When the potatoes are cooked, drop the dumplings on top the stew. The dumpling recipe for the above amount of stew follows:

2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons butter
Method:

To this recipe, use two eggs and what little milk is needed to add to the egg to make enough moisture to make dough. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together, then rub in the butter, as for pie crust. At first, add a little milk to the egg and stir in with the flour mixture. Don't have a "wet dough." Drop by teaspoonfuls into stew, cover tightly and let cook for 10 minutes or a little longer. Don't raise the cover until cooked.

The children's home, for this morning they took them five big baskets of food, a great big freezer of ice cream, and many, many toys. I guess maybe there never were any children's happier than those in the children's home, for they had thought they weren't going to have anything special for Thanksgiving.

Well, the animal boys and girls who gave the surprise baskets were so happy all day yesterday that they didn't know what to do. They all said they were so glad that they didn't have a party, and then last night what do you suppose happened? The fathers and mothers held a big party for all the children who had been thoughtful in taking Thanksgiving cheer to poor persons. Everyone certainly had a good time, and everyone said that next year more families would be helped. Just then Johnny Ape laughingly asked:

"Does that mean we get a bigger party than ever if we help more persons?"

Of course, Johnny didn't mean it!

ALL ABOUT WHAT THE LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DOING IN ANIMAL WORLD

BY V. LUDEL BODEN

Thanksgiving is coming, boys and girls and do you know that the animal children celebrate Thanksgiving just the same as we do? Really, they do, and they have the best times and they are very thoughtful of everyone. They have been busy all week preparing baskets of food for all of the poor animal boys and girls and for all poor people, and this morning they delivered the baskets. How surprised everyone who received one was!

Last Sunday afternoon all of the squirrel, rabbit, monkey, and skunk children held a meeting in the Animal Village hall, to plan for Thanksgiving.

"Let's have a party!" exclaimed Johnny Ape, who was always thinking of having a good time.

"Let's" everyone replied and Softy-tail Rabbit said that he thought it would be nice to have lots and lots and lots to eat and everyone said "yes, yes!"

Well the Skunk children and the Rabbit children and the Squirrel children and the Monkey children planned and planned and they were going to have the biggest party ever heard of, with all kinds of Thanksgiving decorations and all kinds of things to eat including lettuce, carrots, cabbage, gingerbread boys, butter-scotch candy, chocolate candy, ice cream sodas, ice cream sundaes, taffy apples, sandwiches, ice cream, cake, cookies, cornucopia, pecans, and—well, everything that can be thought of that would be grand at a Thanksgiving celebration. Well, those children planned and planned and planned until finally Frisky-toes Squirrel jumped up and said:

"I think we are making a mistake, planning all of these things for ourselves. I know of a way we could have a better time. Do you want to hear how?"

Everyone shouted: "Yes, we want to hear. Tell us!"

And Frisky-toes said he thought it would be nice to use the money that had been intended to spend for the party and fill baskets with food for poor animals and animals who were ill.

"I think your plan is a good one," Johnny Ape said, and you will remember that Johnny Ape is the one who had suggested having a party. Then everyone else said that the plan was a good one, so the animal children had to make over their plans. And how busy they have been this week! Every evening after school the children have been collecting foods of all sorts and today they delivered the baskets. Honestly, you never saw such happy animal children! Would you like to hear what was in the baskets? The children delivered their surprises with coaster wagons.

First they went to see Grandma and Grandpa Pig who are very, very old and who don't have any children to care for them. They don't have much money, either, and they were so happy when the animal children gave them the basket of food, crying "surprise!" And it certainly was a surprise to Grandpa and Grandma

Pig when they saw corn, sweet apples, milk, bread, and ever so many more things which the Pigs like to eat.

And did you know that the Chipmunk children are all quarantined (that means kept away from their playmates) because Cutie Chipmunk has the measles? It's true, yes sir, that every little Chipmunk has to stay home for days and days. Of course, the animal children could not take food to the Chipmunks, but they put it just over the fence of the Chipmunk town and then watched the Chipmunks get it. English walnuts, pecans, tender ears of corn, nut bread, and nut cookies were in the basket. Is isn't any wonder, is it, that the Chipmunk children said this morning that they thought it was really fun to be quarantined?

And do you all remember about reading of the Animal Children's home? The squirrels, the monkeys, the rabbits, and the skunks didn't forget the boys and girls who live in

CUSTOM OF SENDING GREETING CARDS IS GROWING EACH YEAR

Every Season Has Special Message of Cheer; Birthdays Too

The sending of greeting cards is not new. From the cave man who chiseled his messages of friendship on stones, through medieval times when papyrus scrolls, olive branches, jewels, the ribbon-knot of civility, or sealed missives sent by fleet-footed messengers linked the royalty of the world together, until the present time when a few pennies will send them to any part of the world, the greeting has been a necessary form of expressing human friendliness.

In olden times the greeting was possible only for the few; today it is used by millions. Greeting cards, especially at Christmas time, are sent alike by kings and home-folks. The finest art work of the land is available for both, for while the royal families of Europe and the high officials of our own land command the services of famous artists and versed writers to produce individual cards for their personal use, the same talent produces designs for the popular greeting card. In medieval times the royal greetings often took the form of jewels or carved trinkets. At the French court great gallants sent carvings or ivory plaques to their ladies; it was one of these that the Marquise de la Valliere read the love verses from Louis XIV to her successor, and thus learned that her reign was over.

Modernistic

The late fall and early winter season contains four important greeting days: Halloween with its spirit of frivolity; Thanksgiving when good fellowship is in the air; Christmas and New Year's with their good cheer and hearty well-wishing. The cards which will appear to mark these days are all showing the modernistic influence to some extent. Colors are bright and clear, and a certain boldness has crept into favorite designs. There is not, however, as radical an outburst of cubes and triangles as is found in the modernistic furniture designs. The envelope flung, however, are noticeably riotous in both design and color.

Thanksgiving Greetings

For Thanksgiving, November 29, the shopkeepers report a greater demand for greeting cards this year than ever before. The cards are featuring buff and yellow backgrounds and harvest designs, sentiments expressing thankfulness for friendship and hearty wishes for prosperity and good cheer. Here and there are new specially worded cards for the various members of the family.

Christmas Cards

Someone has said that there are no "new styles" in Christmas cards, that the old, old message can never change its style, though the paper, printing, coloring and design for expressing it can vary greatly.

Certainly 1928 offers a great variety of new and lovely cards. All are very colorful, many are bold and have in hearty well-wishing. Gone are the delicate apple-blossom sprays and holly twigs that used to be the sole decoration of a Christmas card. In their place we have big all-over designs, pictures that tell a Christmas story with but a word or two of greeting, and unusually lovely etchings, smartly hand-colored and in many instances suitable for framing.

Christmas cards are of two kinds, personal and informal. The first are printed or engraved with the sender's name and the same card is usually sent to the entire list of friends and acquaintances. The informal cards are usually selected from card shop counters to fit each individual on the sender's list; they may be religious, dignified, clever, amusing, or witty, as desired.

In the personal cards there are new styles in signatures. The use of the sender's first name instead of the formal "Mr. and Mrs." is sponsored this year. The facsimile or handwritten signatures is also new for 1928. It has the virtue of being adaptable to almost any card and it adds a desirable personal touch, although of course it entails having a special plate made of the signature. If it is desired to use a calling card plate for engraved Christmas cards, the lettering of the calling card can usually be matched among the infinite variety of greeting cards available.

The informal cards are bigger and brighter than ever. The repetition of envelope sometimes takes the place of the card design inside the flap of the envelope sometimes takes the place of the gay envelope linings and there are many new cut-out novelties. The modernistic touch shows in black backgrounds for bright spot-color designs. Silhouettes are popular.

Designs for both the personal and informal 1928 cards include old English scenes, New England scenes New York scenes, and some scenes as late as 1900. Ships prance colorfully on bounding seas, and there are animals, hunting scenes, Bible scenes, classic madonnas, and many top and Santa Claus designs especially for children.

For The New Year
Many people send New Year's cards, sometimes in preference to, sometimes in addition to, Christmas cards. They are particularly appropriate for business friends and for those who, for one reason or another, have not been remembered at Christmas. Many New Year's cards incorporate a word of thanks for a Christmas remembrance and the 1929 cards will be like the Christmas ones,—very gay and hearty in their well-wishing.

Etiquette of Cards

A well-defined code of etiquette has grown up around the sending of greeting cards. Standards of good taste demand certain little courtesies in connection with these messengers of friendship, among them being the requirement that envelopes be addressed by hand, in ink, not by typewriter nor in pencil. Greeting cards are personal and demand the personal touch.

It is important, too, that the initials, spelling, and address be correct, as it mars the recipient's pleasure in receiving the card if carelessness is shown in this respect. Some people regard it as a personal affront if their name is misspelled, particularly by a friend.

If two envelopes are furnished, put the address on the outer one in full, leave the inner one unsealed and write on it only the name of the recipient.

If there is any doubt about the card's reaching its destination safely, write the sender's name and address on the flap of the envelope; this will serve both for a return address and to notify the recipient of the sender's latest address.

Cards to a business friend or acquaintance should usually be sent to the business address. If the sender is acquainted with the recipient's wife the card should be sent to both at the home address; if the sender has not met the recipient's wife, her name should not be included in the address of the card; in any case, she should not be addressed at the business man's office.

The married business woman who uses her maiden name at her office should put that name in italics under her joint signature with her husband, as "Mr. and Mrs." on their Christmas cards. The unmarried business woman should use her first name and not "Miss" in signing her Christmas cards.

The new Ford has a very simple and effective lubrication system

THE lubrication system for the engine of the new Ford is as simple in principle as water running down hill.

A gear pump in the bottom of the oil pan raises the oil to the valve chamber reservoir. From here it flows on to the main crankshaft bearings and the front camshaft bearing. Overflow oil drops into the oil pan tray and runs into troughs through which the connecting rods pass.

As the ends of these rods strike the oil they scoop up a supply for the connecting rod bearing. At the same time they set up a fine spray that lubricates the pistons and other moving parts.

From the tray the oil runs into the bottom of the pan, and is again drawn up through a fine mesh screen and pumped to the valve chamber.

This system is so effective that the five-quart contents of the oil pan pass through the pump twice in every mile when you are traveling at only 30 miles an hour. Yet there is only one movable part—the oil pump.

Proper oiling and greasing mean so much to the life of your car that they should not be neglected or carelessly done.

See your Ford dealer regularly. He is especially well-fitted to lubricate the new Ford and he will do a good, thorough job at a fair price.

THANKSGIVING WAS REAL CELEBRATION FOR NEW ENGLAND

Although it is not generally known by the most of us our New England ancestors frowned on any riotous celebration of Christmas, but were strong for the celebration, or rather the proper observance of the Thanksgiving season. In an interesting story on "Life in the Colonial Days," in the current issue of the National Republic, Mr. H. O. Bishop says on the subject of holiday observance:

"Some of the customs of the early colonists are passing strange to the present generation. Before leaving England they had become disgusted with the method in vogue of celebrating Christmas and therefore for years would not celebrate it at all in Massachusetts. They bitterly referred to the old country celebration as 'wanton Bacchanalian Christmas' spent in revelling, dicing, masking, mummery, consumed in computations, in interludes, in excess of wine, in mad mirth."

"The first Christmas in Massachusetts was spent at hard labor. The record says: 'Ye 25 day began to erect ye first house for someone use to receive them and their goods.'"

"The following Christmas some new arrivals told the governor it went against their consciences to work on Christmas. He excused them. But, later in the day, when he found them having a lot of fun playing 'pitch-the-bar' and 'stool-ball' in the middle of the street, he laconically informed them that it hurts his conscience to see them play while others were working, and ordered them to quit."

"By 1659 they were so bitter against the English form of Christmas that they provided a fine of five shillings for any person observing it as a holiday by feasting or not working. The idea of this was to 'bent down every sprout of Epicurean'."

It was not until the Church of England, some years later, established Christmas services that this bitter opposition began to lessen.

"Thanksgiving celebrations were different. The Pilgrims were highly in favor of them right from the start. Edward Winslow, writing to a friend in England, December 1, said:

"Our harvest being gotten in our governor sent four men on fowling that so we might after a special manner rejoice together after we had gathered the fruits of our labors. They four killed as much fowl as with a little help beside served the company about a week. At which time among other recreations we exercised our arms, many of the Indians coming among us, and among the rest their greatest king Massasoit with some thirty men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five deer which they brought and bestowed on our governor, and upon the captains and others."

"It will be observed that they had a week of Thanksgiving feasting, not merely one day. And it must have been a lavish feast when we recall Governor Bradford's statement that 'beside water fowl there was great store of wild turkeys'."

One of the most exciting sports indulged in by the early New Englanders was the hunting of wolves which were entirely too plentiful for comfort. A lot of men, in the winter-time, would form a huge circle around a wolf-infested swamp, and then gradually close in on them."

"Human capital is our state's greatest asset," said Dr. E. B. Cooley, President of the Illinois Tuberculosis and Public Health association. "Twenty-four years ago the educational campaign to control tuberculosis was started. As the Christmas Seal of 1928 is a Roman galley, an argosy, sailing with favorable winds, it is symbolic of the happiness that can come from perfect health."

POISONOUS LIQUOR TAKES THOUSAND LIVES IN STATE

Mixtures Sold as Bonded Whisky Cause Many Fatalities in 1927.

Springfield, Nov. 29—Casting a weather eye toward thrifty bootleggers and racketeers who are doubtless stocking contraband against the anticipated holiday trade, Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director, declared here today that the poisonous mixtures sold for bonded whiskey resulted in more than a thousand deaths in Illinois last year and gave the state its worst mortality record from alcoholism. The 409 fatalities charged directly to alcoholism and the 731 to cirrhosis of the liver surpassed those found in the records for these causes even in the days of wide open saloons while one can only surmise how many of the 1,722 persons killed in automobile accidents owe their demise primarily to run drinking.

"Paying for health work out of one pocket and buying poisonous rum out of the other is the sorry economic practise disclosed by statistics," Dr. Rawlings declared, "which show that liquor drinking killed more people in Illinois last year than typhoid fever, scarlet fever, smallpox, meningitis, measles and infantile paralysis combined."

"Alcoholism was credited with 409 deaths last year, a figure higher than that for any previous year. Cirrhosis of the liver, a condition frequently brought on by drinking alcohol, caused 731 deaths. This likewise was a high record mark for the state. In the light of these facts the thirty may decide for themselves what kind of stuff the beer peddlers are offering."

"Automobile accidents figured in 1,722 deaths in the state last year. While no accurate information is available on that particular point there is evidence enough to warrant the statement that intoxication was responsible for more than an insignificant percentage of them."

"The 1,140 deaths last year from alcoholism and cirrhosis of the liver combined were 66 per cent higher than the 731 registered in 1919, the first year after prohibition, and higher than for any other year on record."

"The reopening of old Keeley institutes, dormant for many years, is another sign that even the inebriate recognize the danger hidden behind the sparkle of the bootlegger's wealth."

"New Fangled" Hitches Win Praise of Skeptics

Urbana, Nov. 29—Skepticism over so-called "new-fangled" ways of hitching horses has given way to widespread adoption of those methods by Illinois farmers, as a result of 29 demonstrations of big-team hitches which the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois held this last season in 22 counties with a total attendance of 5,837 farmers. It is reported by E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist.

The hitches, which increase the efficiency both of man and horse labor by combining five, six, eight and even as many as twelve horses in one team, have proved highly successful with Illinois farmers, according to Robbins. He cites the case of one farmer who attended a demonstration near Princeville in Peoria county early last spring. This farmer had been especially skeptical about the "new fangled" ways of hitching horses, but after he saw the demonstration he decided to try some of the hitches himself with a gentle team. He reported that the tying and bucking-back plan of driving was a big success from the start. Now he uses it with any of his horses and can drive a number in one team easily with one pair of lines.

Other counties besides Peoria in which the big-team hitches were held were: Adams, Boone, Champaign, Christian, Fulton, Greene, Henry, Iroquois, Jo Daviess, Knox, Lake, Macoupin, McLean, Marion, Morgan, Platt Pike, Stark, Tazewell, Warren and Woodford.

WRITES OF TRIP

Ch. D. Hughes, a former resident of this vicinity, sends the following letter to The Antioch News telling of his trip. He and Mrs. Hughes are now at their winter home in Lynn Haven, Florida.—Editor's Note.

Leaving Gurnee a few minutes after helping to elect Mr. Hoover, we passed through Libertyville, and following routes 21, 46, 4 and 2, we went into camp a few miles south of Decatur, Illinois, for the night. All the way we had the road pretty much to ourselves as everybody seemed to be busy voting. Saw a few men picking corn by hand, and several picking machines standing in the fields, but none of them working. The day was perfect and we expected Wednesday to be like it, but about 4 a. m. we heard the first drops of rain on the car, and it kept it up till 1:30 p. m. A filling station attendant invited us in beside his fire and we gladly accepted. We invited him to eat dinner with us. He seemed to think our food an improvement over his regular bachelor fare. From there on the weather was as nearly perfect as we ever found. We followed No. 2 to Cairo, Illinois. We intended to ferry into Kentucky, but were a few minutes late for the boat so landed in Missouri, and found excellent roads through that state and Arkansas to the Memphis bridge, the auto part of which had burned out a short while before, but Memphis was doing the handsome thing by furnishing free ferrying to all comers, and the papers said that the bridge would be ready for traffic again November 17.

Our troubles began by the breaking of the rear spring of the old Ford, and about the same time the pin holding the times brush cut off, and so we had to be towed to the Ford headquarters, where it took the experts some time to locate the sheared off times pin, something rather unusual in troubles. Here we slept in a rooming house for the first time in our migrations.

Pulling out of Memphis Tennessee, about 9 a. m. we started for Tupelo, Mississippi, over route 4 and 78. But when half way between Macon, Mississippi, and Tupelo, over the broad highways we got an unexpected thrill when my wife shouted in my ear "Where are you going?" I did not know, but inside of two seconds decided to stop with the Ford headed down hill over a steep embankment, with all the spokes broken out of the left front wheel. My wife says I was asleep. I would be foolish to deny the accusation, for that could be my only excuse for getting so close to the side of the road. I saw the front wheel slipping over the bank and knew that if we tried to climb back up, even going rather slowly, we were in for a very quick turn over side ways, maybe several of them, but the soft ground gave us a safe landing without even spilling so much as an apple or water from the engine.

But now comes the surprising part of the mishap. In a few minutes we were surrounded by fellow travelers, all offering advice and congratulations. "How did you ever get there without turning over?" One woman said: "God was sure with you that time!" None of this was surprising but when my wife rode in to Tupelo and sent out the Ford wrecking outfit, and they came out and hauled us up hill, and the 15 miles into town and put on a wheel and only charged us $9.50 for the entire job we were surprised. Nine dollars and a half for the wrecker and two men, and the most of it night work, seems to illustrate the chivalry of the southerner for a fellow man in distress. I know that most persons would not be telling of their mistakes and mis-attorneys contenting themselves with simply submitting character witnesses to prove the good character of Martin, Pearsall and Bracher prior to the indictment.

Col. A. V. Smith, state's attorney, and his assistant, S. H. Block, charged that on August 16, 1922, the conspiracy started when Bracher agreed to send $100,000 to the Eureka bank in which Nye was cashier.

The bank, at that time, was pressed for ready cash and Busick was commissioned to get loans. Busick, it was charged, induced Martin, then in the Security bank, to encourage Bracher to send the money to Kansas.

Pearsall, when he came into office covered up the alleged shortage, according to Col. Smith.

Nye furnished them with a bogus certificate of deposit on the Eureka bank in which only $100 of the $100,000 was deposited, according to state witnesses.

Nye, too, according to the charges of the prosecution, paid interest on this $100,000 as if it had been in the bank. This was not paid to the county, records show.

Interest Paid.
Nye was indicted in Kansas by the government on charges of making false entries in the bank books.

Judge Fisher, in his ruling, held that interest of two per cent had been paid on this money and that Bracher, after investigation, deposited the money in what he thought was a solvent bank, although it failed and reorganized later.

Pearsall, he pointed out, merely accepted certificates of deposit turned to him by Bracher.

Busick, he stated, might have received a commission but was entitled to one. Martin, he urged, acted in the capacity as a banker in transferring the account, and Nye's acts had no part in the Lake county trial.

John B. Wright, 91, one of Saugamon county's and Springfield's pioneer residents, died at his home in Springfield recently. fortunes on the road to Florida, especially when no one is to be blamed but themselves. We saw the evidences of several head-on collisions, smashed wind shields and turn-overs, and we consider ourselves fortunate to be safe. In our own house here, in the same car for the fifth trip. We find the roads improving each time we make the trip, and it makes little difference what route is taken. An occasional detour, that is not so good as it might be, is likely to be found on any of them. Florida is unusually quiet. No booms or storms and everybody that we met on the road seemed satisfied with the outcome of the election. The evidences of the boll weevil doing its deadly work on the cotton in Mississippi and Alabama is apparent, but at the same time a larger production than usual is indicated by the market reports. We had a fine crop of sweet potatoes in our garden, and oranges on the trees planted two years ago. Both well and happy.

ILLINOIS INKLINGS

Questions About State Ahe Answered; A Bit Of This And That

Q—Can you give me comparative figures showing how the value of manufactured products in Illinois is increasing year by year?

A—Figures follow:

Year	Value
1899	$1,120,868,308
1904	1,410,342,129
1909	1,919,276,594
1914	2,247,322,819
1919	5,425,244,694
1921	3,705,379,662
1923	5,041,519,545
1925	5,321,837,866

Q—Peak of war-time prosperity Government figures for 1927 are being prepared now and probably will be issued very soon. It is generally agreed that the 1927 figures will be greater than the war-time peak.

Q—When was the first census, now of record, taken in Illinois? Where were the chief settlements?

—W. M. M. Freeport.

A—Among the records of Randolph county, on the Mississippi river, is an ancient writing that purports to tell the population of the "Illinois country" as of 1765. Apparently it is but an estimate as it is in round figures. Here it is:

White men	700
White women	500
White children	850
Negroes	900
Total	2,950

The whites were almost all French and they were spread out in all settlements along the river bottoma from the present site of East St. Louis on the north to Chester on the south. Many of their descendants still live here.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1928

THANKSGIVING TODAY—
BEWARE OF TOMORROW!

THANKSGIVING DAY—the day of turkey and mince pie and the day before indigestion—is at hand. And what a world of different meanings Thanksgiving carries!

To most persons Thanksgiving means going home or going to grandmother's. And if grandmother happens to live on a farm, a sure enough old-fashioned observance of the celebration is assured. For more than a week grandmothers throughout the country have been baking and cooking foods—foods which may not be as dainty as those served in the Waldorf, but foods which have "IT" and plenty of it. Those proverbial groaning tables are certain to result.

If one isn't fortunate enough to be going home or to grandmother's there is no harm in imagining what one would have to eat if one DID go. Of course, at grandmothers there will be turkey—a brown steaming one, garnished with parsley and filled with tasty "stuffing." And there will be mashed potatoes—not served on the plate, but put on the table in a big dish, the potatoes piled high and topped with a huge piece of butter churned by grandmother herself. And the gravy! It will be the smooth, creamy kind with a golden glint. The cranberry sauce will be a deep red, sparkling as though to attract attention. But attention doesn't need to be called to grandmother's sauce! And the pumpkin pie, spicy and rich—the doughnuts, thick, sugary and brown—cookies, fresh and crisp—oh! so many things for dessert and so many things to nibble on all the afternoon and to eat for lunch in the evening, even though one is "filled up clean to the neck." True—this has all been a game with the imagination, only a dream—but how many dreams exactly like this will be realized on Thanksgiving Day. And how many will not!

BUSINESS PROSPECTS

Now that the election is over it would seem from present indications that Uncle Sam is to continue his march along the high road of progress and prosperity. It might be added in passing that the campaign this year had little if any effect on business and the year 1928 seems to have pretty effectually disposed of the old bugaboo of hard times and uncertainty during presidential campaign years.

In a recent statement on the economic situation in the country, Charles M. Schwab, one of America's leading industrialists, declared that the nation is still on the high tide of prosperity and that the prospects for the immediate future are unusually favorable.

Continuing, Mr. Schwab said:

"The unemployment which existed in some measure a few months ago has lessened. Workers generally are now fully employed and at good wages. The relations between labor and management were never more harmonious, due to the wise attitude of cooperation and conciliation existing on both sides.

"Business sentiment is good. This is particularly reassuring in view of the fact that we are to elect a new President of the United States within two weeks. It indicates that there exists little apprehension as to the results of the election and their probable effect on business."

Prosperity, Mr. Schwab admitted, had not been as kind to the farmers as to our citizens in other walks of life but even here he saw signs of improvement.

The signs for the farmer are indeed not discouraging. In the campaign both parties promised to help him as much as is possible by legislation. These pledges will doubtless be carried out in the near future, both by the enactment of special farm tariffs and in laws designed to solve our marketing problems. This is entirely as it should be and Congress will doubtless be in a willing and even anxious mood.

One of those hardest hit has been the corn farmer. In a recent statement Secretary of Agriculture Jardine declared that the corn situation is improving due in part to the fact that the crop in Europe will be 23 per cent less than last year, and that this will doubtless create an export demand. There was a very small carryover crop of five per cent from last year, he continues, and the new crop is estimated to be less than five per cent greater than the yield of 1927.

The signs are generally encouraging from the agricultural standpoint and there is evidence on which to base the prediction that the year 1929 will witness a big step in the improvement of the agricultural situation in the United States.

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED IT?

After the final reports are made of census statistics gathered by the Antioch High school economics department, surprising facts may be revealed. Antioch may have 1,000 inhabitants—or maybe 2,000. Surveys always bring many facts to light—facts scarcely thought of before.

A survey of the community made recently discloses some interesting information. There are 38 young women, between the ages of 20 and 30, who have no organized physical or social recreation. There are no women's athletic teams, no music clubs, no business women's clubs, and no study circles. Where there are no such organizations one's views become somewhat narrow, even though one reads a great deal. Using Sinclair Lewis' idea, "Main Street" is bound to grip a person who goes with the same crowd and does the same things night after night and week after week.

Young married people, too, who delight in clean wholesome fun are offered no opportunity to get together for common enjoyment, lectures or debates. There is no hall with a stage where skit shows, plays, and other entertainments may be presented.

A movement is under way by the Methodist church to erect a community hall. Just what would meet the needs of Antioch is not known. Henry E. Tralle, New York, an expert on community buildings, has been studying the needs of Antioch. What he will think best and what Antioch is to have are yet to be known.

Have you walked or driven on Victoria street recently? There is an exceedingly large number of nice residences and well-kept lawns. Since the street was paved the residents have taken a greater pride in the appearance of Victoria street. If you don't believe it, take a stroll down the avenue. New improvements are continually being made.

Would you believe this—that it took a man more than 24 hours to come from Chicago to Antioch? Well, it is true and you persons who think Antioch is so much on the map—think of this:

A man who has traveled extensively found it necessary to come to Antioch. He asked a ticket agent in Chicago how to arrive in "the hub of the lake region." He was informed that he should take the C. B. & Q. railroad to Aurora and make connections there for Antioch. The traveler, whom we shall call Mr. X, left Chicago Friday morning at 9 o'clock. In Aurora he was told that he had been given the wrong directions, and that he should go to Elgin. Mr. X arrives in Elgin ready to go to Antioch, but—

Elgin, he learned, was not the correct place to be, for, he was informed, he should go to Crystal Lake. In Crystal Lake a ticket agent had a friend who would drive Mr. X to Antioch for $20. But Mr. X refused the kind invitation for the $20 ride, so the ticket agent sent him to Woodstock. From Woodstock Mr. X went to Grayslake where he spent the night. A taxi brought him Saturday morning into Antioch—arriving here shortly before noon. The trip had cost about $30. Thirty dollars from Chicago to Antioch. The trip from Antioch to Chicago, however, cost Mr. X less than two dollars.

Sunday was a cold day, but a fireman's duty is never shirked. Not in Antioch anyway. When the alarm was sounded Sunday afternoon every man hurried to the station—pulling on sweaters, caps, shirts, and coats. And one poor fellow left home in such a hurry that he didn't have any shoes with him. The drowsy fought the blaze at Petite lake for more than two hours, coming back to Antioch with clothes hanging on their coats and caps.

For Business Firms

The business greeting idea is becoming more and more popular each year. Business today is not a cold-blooded proposition. The most successful firms are those which are the most human—those which have succeeded most in making friends out of their customers. And what could create a warmer, more friendly feeling than a warm, cordial greeting or message of appreciation at Christmas time?

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History

- a Six in the price range of the four!

The Chevrolet Motor Company announces The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History... a Six in the price range of the four!

Spectacular as Chevrolet's achievements have been in the past... notable as its engineering triumphs have proved themselves to be—this remarkable new car dwarfs every previous Chevrolet accomplishment. Not only does it introduce into the low-priced field an entirely new measure of performance, comfort, beauty and style—but it is sold at prices so low as to alter every previous conception of motor car value.

The new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine—developed from more than a hundred motors designed especially for this sensational car—stands out as an engineering masterpiece. With a power increase of approximately 32% over the previous Chevrolet motor, with sensationally greater speed, and faster acceleration—it offers a type of performance that is literally astounding... even to those who have been driving cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

Throughout the entire speed range, it performs with a smoothness and quietness of operation that have never before been approached in a low-priced automobile. At the slower speeds of city traffic it idles along with wonderful silence and ease. On boulevards and country roads it responds with an eagerness that is a constant delight. It takes the longest and steepest hills with an abundant reserve of power that is a source of pride to the driver. And its economy of operation averages better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

This revolutionary performance has been achieved as a result of the greatest array of engineering advancements that Chevrolet has ever announced. A high compression, non-detonating cylinder head... a new heavier crankshaft, statically and dynamically balanced... automatic lubrication of the entire rocker arm mechanism... semi-automatic spark control... hot-spot manifold... gasoline pump and filter... new and larger carburetor, with automatic acceleration pump and improved venturi choke... fabric camshaft gear... heavier driving gears... heavier differential gears... improved crankcase breathing system... improved lubrication... new 4-wheel brakes that are powerful, safe and quiet under all conditions—these indicate the importance of a group of engineering advancements that embrace every major unit of the entire chassis.

In appearance, this Outstanding Chevrolet is destined to become an automotive sensation—so smart, so stylish and so distinctively appointed that it rivals the costliest custom creations. The new Fisher bodies are longer, lower and roomier with an adjustable driver's seat in all closed models—and reveal the matchless artistry of Fisher designers. With their modish new colors, their smart dual mouldings and their distinctive concave pillars, they achieve a degree of original beauty that has seldom been equalled in motor car design.

You are cordially invited to visit our showroom and secure complete and detailed information on this sensational new car which will be ready for delivery beginning January 1st.

HOME IS WRECKED BY STRAY MONKEY

Rescuing Officer Is Bitten on Hand.

Columbia, Ohio, December 1, in his wake a wreck of home and a badly "chewed up" policeman. "Jimmy," a mischievous monkey, is back on his master's home following a high adventure (chronicled by our press).

Just a month ago "Jimmy" swam the Ohio river. He made a dash for liberty as his owner, R. R. Burns, drove in the river and near the quarries. And he was well on the road to freedom when captured by Mike Suto, quarry worker, of Williams road.

Just a month ago, too, another monkey escaped from the Williams park. If a reward of $25 hadn't been offered for the other monkey Suto wouldn't have expected a reward for "Jimmy."

Put as it was Suto did. Furthermore, he was bitten when he captured "Jimmy." Such was the status of the case when Burnsides went to Suto and asked for his pet. When Burnsides said there hadn't been a reward posted, Suto said otherwise and wouldn't give up the monkey.

Then Burnsides carried his case to Constable John Gray, but the latter didn't care to take action. "I don't like this monkey business," said Gray. Then Burnsides went to the court of Justice of Peace Charles Bowers where he placed bond and secured replevin papers.

In the meantime "Jimmy" had grown to like his new home and had away the time picking fleas and catching flies. When Constable H. M. Meeks of Upper Arlington went to serve the replevin papers, he wouldn't give up his new abode.

With one short jump he cleared a table, knocked off a vase. Then he got on a curtain rod and hung by his tail until the pole broke. Finally he got angry and snapped Meeks in the hand. And then he overturned the furniture.

But "Jimmy" is only a monkey and was finally caught. Meeks wouldn't listen to Suto's pleas and refused the quarry worker money for bond for replevin papers.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 25.

The Golden Text was: "Our conversation is in heaven; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ: who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself." (Phil. 3:20, 21).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's." (1 Cor. 6:19, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual forces of being may appear—this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true" (p. 428).

THREE ANTIOCH BOYS NAMED ON MYTHICAL NORTHWEST ELEVEN

Sheehan, Steininger, and Dalziel Given Berths On Team.

Three Antioch High school boys are placed on the all-conference mythical team, selected from the Northwest district by A. H. Haggerty, as announced in the Libertyville Independent.

The team follows:
Lemke, Arlington Heights, left guard.

Thomas, Libertyville, center.
Dalziel, Antioch, right guard.
Gieske, Harrington, right tackle.
Stried, Warren, right end
Grimes, Libertyville, quarterback and captain.

E. Tromblee, Libertyville, left half.
Sheehan, Antioch, right half.
Steininger, Antioch, fullback.

Mr. Haggerty says the following regarding his selections:
"My selections of players to positions on the 1928 All-Conference team from the six teams who participated in the Northwest High School conference football season just ended is devoid of all partisanship."

The basis for my selection of men to be placed on this team, which to my mind would make the best aggregation that could be formed from elections from all six teams, is largely made up of individual performance whether the player selected played on a winning or losing team. Football fans throughout both Lake and Cook counties who followed the conference play will agree that many excellent players on losing teams performed in great style through the season, but whose stellar work was unpronounced because his team did not win consistently. Individual performance, football brains, length of experience and spirit are the things for which I have searched in my quest for members to be placed on this team.

Sheehan Elusive
"Grimes is named at quarter and captain because of his ability to handle a team under any and all circumstances, his cool headedness, and his generalship. Grimes is perhaps the best punter in the conference. He not only gets distance to his boots, but he possesses the uncanny ability to place them wherever he wishes."

"E. Tromblee, of Libertyville, and Sheehan, of Antioch, are selected for the positions of left and right halves, respectively. Both are elusive, shift runners, who possess marked ability to elude tacklers. Both are adept at snaring passes, probably more so than any other backs in the conference. The fullback position is awarded to the mighty Steininger, of Antioch man because of his ability to Litchfield, of Libertyville. These two men are about even in the capabilities of performing at fullback, but the position is given to the Antioch man because of his ability to hit the line harder than his rival. Steininger not only hits the line, but he punts with equal accuracy and adeptness. Litchfield has punted some for his team, but the greater part of this work has fallen on

DEPEND ON IT?

Are you one of those persons who always stops in front of the First National bank or the Keulman Jewelry store window to see what the correct time of day is? There being so few electrically operated clocks in town, most persons have learned to depend on the Keulman and bank timepieces.

The Keulman store has now installed a new Sangamore electric eight-day clock. It is an 11 jewel mechanism, the motor being operated off the city current. The equipment was built by the Illinois Hamilton company.

KRAFT AND LEGGETTE BOUT WILL FEATURE AT ANTIOCH PALACE

Local Fighter Will Step Into Ring To Meet Eddie Peddle.

Antioch has a fighter to enter the ring at the Antioch Palace Friday night when Joe Sames will meet Eddie Peddle well known Lake Forest boxer.

When Grayslake's Howard Kraft meets Leo Leggette, Chicago, in a return match there is certain to be plenty of action. Another return match in which the fighters are Raymond Krug, Burlington, and Joe Drinka, North Chicago, also promises to be a good bout. Drinka is the boy who knocked Krug last week in the first round. Promoter Dick Mack is, however, offering eight real bouts of windup calibre.

Other numbers on the card are: Frank McMullin Waukegan, versus Gunnar Swane, Lake Forest; Angelo Garlow, Kenosha, versus Bud Soffer, Libertyville; Eddie Garlow, Kenosha, versus Gus Labus, Waukegan; Jimmy Biscardi, Kenosha, versus Charley Grimes, of the orange and black.

"Jurs, of Harrington, and Stried, of Warren, are selected for the wing positions because of their great work on defense, and because both have played through the season in a capable, steady manner. Both are deadly tacklers and adept at snaring passes. Left and right tackle positions are filled, respectively by Gutnick of Bensenville, and Gieske, of Harrington. For ability to break thru the opponent forward wall and smear plays almost before they have begun, these two men have not an equal in the conference.

"Thomas of Libertyville is placed at center, because of his ability to handle the ball, his spirit, fight and pop, his being in the game every minute, and because of his ability in backing up the line on defense. Thomas is a great asset to any team because of his ability to inject fight and spirit into his team mates. "Many good men missed being placed on this team by a narrow margin, and in many cases it was six of one and half a dozen of another. The distinctions have been very fine in many cases, but the above lineup would undoubtedly prove the strongest that could be made up from the teams of the conference."

Zabnale, Highland Park, and Jerry Miller, Kenosha, versus Jimmy Murphy, Belle Plain A. C.

Only One Kayo

One knock-out featured the fight last week—that being when Joe Drinka put a finish to Ray Krug after one minute and 26 seconds in the first round. The fans, numbering more than 1,100, agreed that the entire card was good, exceptionally so.

No bout was more interesting than the one between George Taylor and Fred Lang, Lang, who comes from Kenosha, defeated Waukegan's Negro pride in three rounds. Soon after the opening gong, Lang floored Taylor but Taylor was up in a second, no time wasted. Lang fought the better in all of the rounds, but Taylor did his best work in the third.

In the windup Jimmy Murphy, Chicago, defeated Frankie Hughes, Kenosha, but it took four rounds. The two chaps kept at each other so fiercely and the crowd was so interested, that it seemed as though the fight has scarcely started when the show was over. Murphy showed his Irish in the fourth session and he was too much for Hughes.

Hull Wins Again

Jimmy Hull, Lake Villa, needed four rounds to gain a victory over Harry Leggette, Chicago. Hull used the only style of fighting he knows—the prance, dance and dodge 'em system.

Charley Zabnale, Highland Park, didn't have a mite of trouble in whipping Bob Hermance, Genoa City product. Some pretty good punching.

Night Coughs Quickly Relieved

Coughs and colds usually grow worse at nightfall. Most coughing is caused by an irritation of the throat and bronchial tubes which continued coughing only aggravates. Such coughs are quickly controlled and stopped by Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Hold the dose for a time, low in the throat as for a gargle, then swallow. Relief follows at once. Effective alike for children and grown persons. Try it. On sale at King's Drug Store.

was done by Grover Cleveland Alexander to win over Billy Van Both fighters live in North Chicago. This was another four-rounder. In still another four-round affair, Leo Leggette, Chicago, defeated Howard Kraft, Grayslake.
